

Natural Resource Economics
ECON 3535 - 001
Fall 2024
Student Comments

1. I think that Rimjhim Saxena is one of the best professors I have had at CU. She always makes an effort to ensure that we understand the material and she understands what it means to be a student. She would rather us understand the material than pile on meaningless assignments. I loved her use of unit summaries as they helped me better understand a topic I have never been comfortable with and simultaneously helped me to study throughout the course rather than cramming at the end. I also enjoyed the structure of the lectures and she would always ask if we had any doubts about the content and never belittled anyone's questions. It was a very validating experience in her class and I would recommend her to anyone.
2. I never liked ECON until this class, she was always willing to help and connect with me and my learning needs in anyway possible. She is great at explaining things to where anyone can understand them. There was pressure for group discussion which led to a positive classroom atmosphere.
3. Rimjhim was a fantastic instructor who I felt cared a lot about the success of her students. Additionally, there were opportunities outside of class to get help that were announced and posted on Canvas for easy access.
4. I have excelled in this class as someone who struggles with grasping economics because Rimjhim has been such a knowledgeable instructor.
5. I really enjoyed all the real-world applications of class content. It made it so that I could better understand the material we covered. I also noticed that I was more interested in the material when I could connect it to something currently happening.
6. By far one of my favorite classes this semester. Thank you, Rimjhim, for all the effort you put into discussions, games, and your lectures.
7. Rimjhim Saxena did a great job teaching this course and she has been one of the most helpful teachers I have learned under at CU Boulder. She is always trying to make sure that everyone in the class understands what she is teaching and has designed the class very well.
8. I feel as though the most effective aspect of this course was the unit summaries that encouraged independent thinking and engagement with the material.
9. I liked the use of games to explain ideas especially when they related heavily to real life circumstances.
10. Overall a really well-taught and interesting course, appreciate the fact that expectations were made clear early on.
